Trisha: a very compelling read that leaves you racing through the pages to see where it goes. I really enjoyed the chapter headings as it helped me keep everything in order (time, place, date, etc).

the ending wasn't a shock at all, but still a fun adventure

Albert: A. One thing i liked about Zoo by Graham Marks is how it makes the reader feel involved. I really liked how my heart rate would speed up when something happened that's really exciting, or when something creepy is going on in the book and you can feel that pit in your stomach. I think every student should read this book if they like to read or don't like to read.

B. The only thing I didn't like about this book was how every other chapter would drag out and nothing interesting would happen.

C. "Everything you can imagine is real." I find this quote to be important because it is very true and there is no denying it.

D. If you were to wake up and find out that you have been kidnapped, how would you react?

Christian Gash: Cameron Stewart used to be a high school soccer star, who was once on his strategy to win a national championship yet he received an injury the week earlier than and wasn't capable of going. Yet lifestyles took a flip for the worst while he used to be abducted in entrance of his personal home. The tale is especially fascinating because it takes you on a trip via his existence as he tries to make it home. This booklet is particularly addictive, and that I suggest it to an individual who likes nonstop motion and many twists and turns in a story.
